Marsal Family School of Education, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI

Together, we'll explore the following questions:

- What does it mean to ground teacher education in practice?
- What instructional strategies help teacher candidates develop skill with high-leverage teaching practices?

What to expect at the Foundations of Practice-Based Teacher Education Workshop:

- An in-depth explanation of the key components of practice-based teacher education
- Opportunities to view and discuss videos, lesson plans, and other artifacts of practice-based teacher education
- Opportunities to practice leading rehearsals and coaching teacher candidates
- Strategies for reorganizing courses and class meetings so that much more time is spent on practice
- Regular discussion of the equity implications of practice-based teacher education
